

Scholarship Selection Criteria and Eligibility

To qualify, applicants must:

- Have adequate experience and a level of skills and knowledge within the venue management industry to appropriately contribute to the School* program for which they are applying (i.e. VMS Year 1, VMS Year 2, Leadership Institute).
- Currently work within in the venue management industry within the Asia-Pacific region.
- Be 18 years of age or above.

Written confirmation from the applicant's employer must be provided as part of the application process, stating the employer will release the applicant from work duties for the School week, should the applicant be awarded a scholarship.

Each applicant must complete the application form prior to the closing date and will be judged by a Scholarship Selection Panel.

The selection panel's decision is based on the strength of the applicant's submission and assessed on the applicant's merits. The selection panel's decision on the winner is final.

If the scholarship winner changes role, they must remain working within the industry within the Asia-Pacific region at both the time of and the School week. The scholarship winner must also obtain permission from their new employer to attend School.

'Scholarships to Attend School' must be redeemed in the year the applicant applied. Under special circumstances as agreed by the selection panel, the scholarship may be held for an additional 12 months.

*School refers to the week the Venue Management School and Leadership Institute take place (second week of November).

Scholarship Selection Panel

All scholarship applications will be assessed by a panel of two venue management industry experts along with a representative from each of the organisations providing the scholarship.

The scholarship selection panel and the VMA do not provide individual feedback on scholarship applications.
