Proactive Training for a Safer Venue Industry

Upskill your team. Safeguard your venue.

The Institute of Venue Safety and Security (IVSS) is a specialised education program developed by the Venue Management Association (VMA) to raise the standard of safety, security, and operational resilience across the venue industry.

Designed for professionals working in, supporting, or overseeing public venues, IVSS equips participants with the practical skills, strategic knowledge, and leadership tools needed to manage risk and respond to emerging threats.

Whether you're leading a venue team or managing risk at scale, IVSS helps your people deliver safer outcomes—every day. Because in today's environment, safety isn't optional—it's essential.

Real Impact. Real Outcomes.

Straight From the Source

"The Institute of Venue Safety & Security has been incredibly beneficial to introduce best practices and help validate my current knowledge and practices. The sessions offered fantastic networking opportunities, connecting me with other venue professionals and experienced instructors. The format allowed for plenty of engagement, with ample opportunities to ask questions and discuss shared challenges. The venue visits were particularly valuable, providing insights into how other venues operate and manage safety and security. Overall, it's been an invaluable resource for elevating industry standards and fostering a collaborative approach to venue safety and security."

Miranda Cannon
Auckland Unlimited

"I took away a great deal of learning, some of which I will be sharing and implementing with my team which is a testament to the content that I was exposed to during the week."

Logan Christian
Head of Operations, Auckland Stadiums

"The connections formed at IVSS are invaluable and I will lean on for the rest of my career. I really enjoyed learning from my peers just as much as the Instructors. Loved the Venue Tours and 'war stories' which had some great learnings."

Stella Donachie, National Operations Manager - Events & Venues, Red Badge Group

"Through its commitment to standardising best practices, offering training and facilitating invaluable networking opportunities, IVSS stands as a beacon for professionals in the sector to provide a safe and secure venue to all their stakeholders."

Mike Brew
Operations Manager, Riverside Theatres

Backed by the people who live & breathe venue safety.

They took the lead. Now it's your turn.

Who Is IVSS Designed For?

IVSS is ideal for decision-makers and safety leaders across the venue ecosystem. Whether you're building internal capability or investing in key personnel, this program delivers immediate and long-term impact.

Perfect for:

- Heads of Operations & Facility Managers
- Security & WHS Managers
- People & Culture Leads
- CFOs, CEOs, CXOs
- Company Secretaries
- Suppliers & consultants to the venue industry
- Event & Venue Managers

Whether your team works behind the scenes or on the front line, IVSS gives them the skills to think ahead and act with confidence.

Give your leaders the tools to manage risk with confidence.

How the Program Works

IVSS is a two-year professional development journey delivered through immersive, in-person learning. Each year includes a one-week residential program focused on safety and security leadership, venue operations, and industry best practice.

Led by subject matter experts from Australia, New Zealand, and Europe, the program combines real-world application with deep peer learning to strengthen capability across all venue types.

Each year includes:

- One-week residential learning (25 specialist topics)
- Daily Independent Discussion Groups (IDGs) applying learnings to real scenarios
- Venue Application Projects for practical workplace implementation
- Quarterly Town Halls to extend learning and community throughout the year

Train smarter. Lead safer.
Build a stronger team.
